

LOCATION	Terra Sounds School of Music & Arts 924 Waukegan Rd Glenview, IL 60025 www.terrasounds.com
ESTABLISHED	January 2011
OVERVIEW	Terra Sounds is a new concept of dynamic education in music and creative arts for kids, teens, and adults. The school's faculty consists of some of the most talented in-demand performing musicians and artists in the Chicagoland area. From private lessons in music, arts, and languages to multi-disciplinary group classes, jam sessions, and recording services, the Terra Sounds experience inspires students of all levels to realize their full potential. From its inception, Terra Sounds' mission has been to establish a community that will foster creativity in multiple forms and encourage the passion for the arts in students of all ages.
BACKSTORY	Terra Sounds was launched by a group of business professionals and talented musicians who came together working on a recording project. After a number of late night recording and brainstorming sessions, a new concept of a creative organization combining music, arts, languages, and audio production was born.
KEY STAFF	Aleksandr Romanenko, President Andrey Ash, Managing Director Matvey Kostukovsky, Director of Audio Production
COMMUNITY BENEFITS	It wasn't long after Terra Sounds School of Music & Arts opened its doors in the heart of Glenview in 2011 that the neighborhood realized the creative passion this organization brought to the community. Performances featuring world-class musicians, mentorship programs for teen rock bands, art classes, music lessons, acting workshops, professional recording studio services, programs for seniors and students with special needs are merely some of the ingredients in a creative cocktail Terra Sounds is patiently preparing for Glenview and the North Shore residents. The Terra Sounds team partners and works closely with community organizations such as the Village of Glenview, Glenview Public Library, Glenview Park District, NSSSED, Glenview Chamber of Commerce, and other like-minded companies to grow a true creative community of aspiring and professional musicians, artists, educators, and enthusiasts.
